Residents given White Christmas two days late

Kris Dunn
Times Staff

When local residents headed to church service on Christmas Eve, most of them likely brought an umbrella to keep dry from the rain.

On Christmas morning, the rain hadn't stopped...but continued to fall for the rest of the day.

On Dec. 27th, people hoping for a White Christmas were granted their wish...but only two days late.

Between Sunday and

Monday, 17 centimetres of lake effect snow fell on Greater Fort Erie according to a climate observation site in Fort Erie that collects data pertaining to precipitation and temperature twice daily, says warning preparedness meteorologist with Environment Canada Geoff Coulson.

He said an influx of cold air behind a south-west wind pattern, especially when Lake Erie hasn't iced over, is a definite recipe for lake effect snow.

Between Sunday and Monday, approximately 17 centimetres of lake effect snow fell on Greater Fort Erie, according to a meteorologist from Environment Canada who expects an average amount of snow accumulation this winter for the area.

Warm lake temperature puts more power behind snow squall

"When those winds line up both at the surface and at the lowest levels of the atmosphere over the southwest, it brings moisture right along the axis of Lake Erie," said Coulson.

He said lake effect snow is more common in the earlier part of winter and as cold temperatures over a longer period of time freeze the lake, events like this become less frequent.

"The exchange between the lake and the air is impeded by the ice as it gets thicker, so that tends to diminish the strength of the lake effect," he said.

He said Sunday and Monday's snowfall was as intense as it was because of Lake Erie's temperature being slightly warmer than what it normally is this time of year, accompanied by colder temperatures.

"The bigger the difference, the more powerful the snow squalls can be," said Coulson.

He continued by estimating that Greater Fort Erie will not see anything "more than normal" this winter and expects temperatures to become bitter cold in the next couple of weeks.

On Tuesday, Paul Woodhouse could be found removing the accumulated snowfall from his driveway on Albany Road.

He said he doesn't hide in the house and hope that it melts like other people might do, but instead welcomes it with an open shovel.

"I think it's the best exercise a guy can get," said Woodhouse.

Charges laid after Christmas car fire

On Christmas Day at approximately 6:30 p.m., Niagara Regional Police (NRP) and the Fort Erie Fire Department responded to a reported vehicle fire on North Street. Upon arrival, a vehicle was found fully engulfed in the driveway of a residence in close proximity to the home. Investigation revealed the fire had been deliberately set. Damage to the vehicle is being considered extensive by police and the home also sustained damage from the incident.

Uniformed officers and detectives from the No. 5 district commenced an immediate investigation and arrested a male shortly after.

Charged with one count of arson is a 61-year-old male.

Anyone with information about this offence is urged to contact the NRP at (905) 688 4111 ext. 2300. To leave an anonymous tip or information, please contact Crime Stoppers toll free at 1 (800) 222-TIPS.

Car accident claims life of 18-year-old

A tragic accident from last weekend has claimed the life of an 18-year-old female from Fort Erie.

On Saturday, at approximately 11:37 p.m. the driver of a Chevy Cavalier travelling westbound on Hwy. 3 near High Road lost control of her vehicle on icy road conditions and spun into oncoming traffic before the car was broadsided by another vehicle.

The passenger in the Cavalier, Kelly Anzovino, who was pursuing a post-secondary education in Ottawa, was transported to Welland County General Hospital, where she was pronounced deceased. The 18-year old driver of the Cavalier, also from Fort Erie, was taken to the Welland hospital site suffering from non-life threatening but serious injuries.

The vehicle heading east was occupied by three people, all of whom are from Fort Erie. Their injuries are considered serious but non-life threatening according to Ontario Provincial Police (OPP).

Sgt. Dave Woodford, media coordinator with the OPP's highway safety division said the investigation is ongoing and that on Tuesday, it was still too early to determine what may have caused the accident, other than icy driving conditions and fog. He said speed, mechanics of the car and other things still need to be examined.

"These are all parts of the investigation and we will rule them out as we move forward," said Woodford.

As of Tuesday night, almost 2,000 people have joined a group on the social networking website

Facebook, paying tribute to the young lady who is sadly missed by her friends and family. Hundreds of comments have been left by people who are remembering her for being very artistic, funny and liked by everyone who knew her.

Have you HEARD?

By Alaina Hillier, M.C.I.C.

ARE TWO BETTER THAN ONE?

People may balk at the thought of wearing two hearing instruments, but so-called "binaural" hearing instruments offer distinct advantages to those with hearing impairment in each ear. Hearing with both ears not only increases awareness, but it is more comfortable and draws less attention to the hearing aids. Binaural hearing rather than turning one's head to hear. Moreover, the ability to broaden the source of sound largely depends on the brain's ability to process two hearing acoustic sources rather than just one. And if a person with hearing impairment in both ears wears only one hearing instrument, there may be more rapid deterioration of hearing ability in the unaided ear than there would be if hearing instruments were worn in both ears.

We take the responsibility very seriously of matching every patient with the hearing instruments best suited to his or her special circumstances. We then use sophisticated technology to achieve the most accurate, comfortable, custom fit. The extensive training required of audiologists and our experience in the field make us well-suited to both tasks: is your hearing in need of a boost? Call us at Meagan's BALANCE & HEARING CLINIC, 800-871-4242, to arrange a hearing evaluation and to see the astounding hearing instruments available today. Hearing tests are painless—near you soon at 880 Garrison Road, Unit 12. B.S. The use of binaural instruments also increases wearers' confidence, appreciation of their surroundings, and the speed of conversational response.

New ambulance and police facility set to break ground in 2010

Kris Duford
Times Staff

In 2001, Fort Erie was identified as a community that needed a new facility for its local police detachment. In 2010, this will become a reality, along with a new Niagara Emergency Medical Services (EMS) facility at the same site.

Both uniformed services will be housed out of a new local headquarters at Thompson and Gilmore Roads, across from Bridgewater Country Club.

A total of $4.5 million has been set aside by the regional government with $3.5 million going towards the new police facility and the acquisition of the land, with the remaining $1 million paying for the EMS facility from the Region's 2010 capital budget.

The Town of Fort Erie and the Fort Erie Fire Department (FEFD) have also applied for government funding, hoping to re-locate fire station no. 2 to the site.

"If this is passed, we'll be the first in the region to have all three uniform services in the same area," said Shirley Cordiner, Fort Erie's representative in the regional government.

Staff Sergeant Dave Hunter said these improvements are "badly needed" from a policing perspective. He said the current local headquarters, built in the early 1980's on Thompson Road is very outdated. He said the new facility will have benefits for officers and members of the public in many ways. Firstly, it is in a more central location and will allow for easier access from different areas in town.

Not only will citizens have less difficulty accessing its local police service, on duty officers will be able to work in a more comfortable environment and essentially work more effectively.

"The current facility is very overcrowded. We've been definitely outgrown it," he said.

Cordiner estimates the project will be shovel ready by March or April of 2010.

Let family and friends share memories

This is undoubtedly the most difficult part about working for a community newspaper in your hometown. Everyone knows everyone and when bad news happens...it travels fast.

You will notice that in this week's issue the coverage of 18-year-old Reilly Anzovino's passing is brief and isn't the result of aggressive reporting. We didn't look up contact information for family members in the phonebook and we certainly didn't go knocking on any doors.

This is a small town and there isn't one person who only learned about this when reading The Times this morning. It's been almost a week and everyone knows it happened.

Our priority this week is to give her family and friends the privacy they want and need.

She was the type of person who people say got along with everyone and didn't have a mean thing to say to anyone who crossed her path.

Her friends and family are the ones that should share these memories with one another and not in the public spotlight.

The Times would like to express its condolences to her family and everyone else who was close to her.

AROUND TOWN

Resolutions are easy to come by, but hard to stick with

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By: MATT DAY

We've heard them all before. "I'm going to exercise more," or "I'm going to quit smoking." We've even heard the not-normal ones such as, "I'm going to go skydiving" or "I'm going to use public transit more."

They all sound so enticing at first and there is a huge selection of resolutions one can make. It's the whole sticking to your New Year's resolution that most people are never good with.

If you're like me, this New Year has crept up on you. It seems like just yesterday we were wearing shorts and writing about the school year starting. Now we are bundling up in 15 layers of clothing before heading outside and writing about a brand new calendar year.

When I'm trying to think of a New Year's resolution, a lot come to mind...probably not a good start.

What to do? Should I vow to exercise more? Become more organized? Lay off Facebook?

All three of those are more than likely not to stick, so instead I decided to seriously think hard about a resolution and promise myself to fall through with it.

In order to do this, I need a task or something that is easily attainable, as I'll be the first to admit, I am a lazy guy.

Maybe that's it, become less lazy!

Nah, that's too much work.

It needs to be something simple. Perhaps finally changing my New Year's Notebook mughshot above?

No, I don't think so. That's not a resolution, that just needs to get done.

What about something work related, such as not procrastinating as much?

By working in two communities, Niagara-on-the-Lake and Fort Erie, procrastination kind of comes with the territory.

So, with all these ideas aside I'm still looking for a resolution to stick to. This is where I'm going to ask you, the reader, to help me out. You don't have to know me to come up with an idea, as all suggestions are being considered.

It can be something small, unique, wacky or serious.

Just keep in mind, I want to try and stick to something in 2010. I mean, if all else fails at least I wrote about trying.

To leave me feedback and possibly a resolution to consider, contact me at 905-871-3100 ext. 208 or e-mail me at mday@forterietimes.com.

Food bank thankful for community support during holidays

Dear Editor,

It has been proven once again just how generous and caring our community has been proven once again just how generous and caring our community of Greater Fort Erie is.

Even though times are difficult for more people this year, the donations to Community Outreach Program Erie (COPE) were greater than last year. The only way to explain this is that more people are becoming aware of the needs of our community, and they are "stepping up to the plate" to make a positive difference. Behind every donation is a giving and caring heart.

It is imperative that people realize how much of a difference their donation makes. So many people have been provided with emergency services through COPE this year, due only to the widespread support of our community. "Community" to COPE means not only the people living in a certain area, but the act of "community", by which people work together towards a common good.

We thank everyone who has given to COPE this year with their time; made donations of food, clothing, gifts, store gift cards, finances; provided Christmas for a family.

COPE would not be able to continue providing services if not for ongoing generosity of Greater Fort Erie is.

Lockwood says councillors were not forced into voting the way they did

Dear Editor,

I am writing in regards to councillors Steckley and Noyes' letter of December 26th and councillor Steckley's quote of December 19th regarding the capital budget. I disagree with the phrase "you're forcing me to vote against the budget." Psychology 101 teaches no one can be forced to do anything. An individual always has a choice.

Politics 101 teaches that politics is the art of compromise. Rarely is a councillor 100 per cent happy with every line item of a budget.

We vote on the best budget we can but make compromises along the way. By voting against the capital budget, councillors Steckley and Noyes voted against infrastructure and park land improvements in their own wards. Perhaps they should consider these basic lessons and take responsibility for the way they voted. No one forced them to do anything.

(3) REMOVAL OF QEW East to North OFF-RAMP AT CONCESSION ROAD NOTICE OF STUDY COMPLETION

The Study:

The Town of Fort Erie has completed the Class Environmental Assessment and Preliminary Design for the removal of the QEW East to North off-ramp at Concession Road. The existing ramp has become redundant with the construction of the new off-ramp to the Fort Erie Welcome Centre, west of Concession Road. The extension of Hagey Avenue westerly to intersect with Concession Road will also be constructed.

The Process

The project is subject to the Ontario Environmental Assessment Act and was carried out in accordance with the Class Environmental Assessment for Provincial Transportation Facilities (2000) as set by Group B project. A Transportation Environmental Study Report (TESR) has been prepared. The TESR describes the preferred design and the environmental mitigating measures and provisions that have been incorporated into the construction contract. The TESR is available for 30-day public and agency review period from January 2, 2010 until February 2, 2010 at the following locations:

Town of Fort Erie Clerk's Desk 1 Municipal Centre Drive Fort Erie, ON L2A 2S6 Telephone: 905.871.1600	Fort Erie Public Library Central Branch 136 Glenora Road Fort Erie ON L2A 2M1 Telephone: 905.871.2546	Central Region 1201 Wilson Avenue Building D, 2nd Floor Downsview, ON M3M 1J8 Telephone: 416.255.5412	Ministry of the Environment West Central Region 110 King Street West, 12th Floor Hamilton, ON L8R 4Y7 Telephone: 905.521.7940

If during the review process any concerns are brought forward by the public, a "Bump-Up" can be requested of the Ministry of the Environment and an individual environmental assessment may have to be completed. However, it is anticipated that all concerns will be resolved through discussion between the Town of Fort Erie, and the concerned party. All comments are due by February 2, 2010.

Teenage girl missing from Georgia located at Peace Bridge

Customs and Border Protection (CBP) Field Operations announced the apprehension of a missing 15-year-old girl from Georgia, and the arrest of a 27-year-old man who accompanied her.

On December 22, CBP Officers encountered a 27-year-old El Salvadorian national, as he applied for admission into the United States at the Peace Bridge border crossing, Buffalo, NY.

The male was traveling with a 15-year-old female and advised CBP Officers that he was being returned the U.S. after being refused entry into Canada. He stated that the two were enroute to Toronto to visit family members in Toronto for the holidays. A primary name query of the 15-year-old female revealed that she may be subject of a missing persons report out of Georgia. The report was issued on the 18th of December and was initiated by the girl's family. Both subjects were referred to CBP for a secondary enforcement exam.

During the course of the secondary inspection, Agents from Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) and CBP Officers determined that the juvenile was in fact the subject of the missing persons report. CBP officers confirmed the validity of the report with the Clarkson, GA Police Department. ICE and CBP also notified the juvenile's parents, who advised that she did not have permission to travel, nor did the pair have permission to take the family car.

Additional record checks on the male revealed that he had been previously deported from the United States in April of 2007.

Rivera-Perez admitted that he illegally re-entered the United States sometime in May of 2007, doing so on foot across the U.S.-Mexico border.

He admitted that he and the 15-year-old female were romantically involved, and that they were going to Canada to start a new life. Rivera-Perez was charged with Transportation with Intent to Engage in Criminal Sexual Activity and Re-entering the United States after Deportation. Rivera-Perez remains in the Batavia, NY Federal Detention Facility pending prosecution by the U.S. Attorney's Western District of New York Office. The juvenile was temporarily sheltered at the Compass House in Buffalo. She was re-united with her family on Christmas Eve morning.

Take a dip in the lake before enjoying a warm bowl of chili

KRIS DUBÉ
Times Staff

The snow has arrived and a lot of people are content with staying indoors on a Saturday afternoon watching movies on the couch.

On the other hand, there are some folks who see the frigid weather as a great time to throw on a bathing suit and go swimming in the lake.

Next Saturday, the Crystal Beach Business Improvement Area (BIA) will be holding its first annual Polar Bear Dip and Chili Cook Off at the Bertie Boating Club in Point Abino starting at noon.

Once the icy water gets to be a little too much for the warm blooded participants, several batches of chili will be available, prepared by local restaurants and masters of the in-home kitchen as well.

Event co-organizer and Crystal Beach BIA member Phil Smith is hoping the unique event will be well-received in its first year.

"If we can get 50 people it will be a success, if we can get 150 it will be all the better," said Smith.

Dips were held in Fort Erie for many years in the past but since Fort Erie Winterfest has wrapped up, Smith said it is important to keep a tradition like this alive, while promoting an area that sees fewer visitors than usual during the winter months.

"Our goal is to create a fun event, while promoting business in Crystal Beach and the rest of Fort Erie," said Smith.

Any local restaurants or homegrown chefs who wish to enter their recipe are being graciously accepted. Restaurants will be asked to pay a $15 entry fee and a $10 gift certificate to their establishment.

As a fundraiser for Community Outreach Program Erie (COPE), participants are asked to bring non-perishable food items and pay an entry fee of $5 for the dip and chili. Prizes will be handed out for the best recipe showcased at the event.

Anyone interested in signing up as a vendor can call Smith at (905) 651-5295.

A group of people braving the cold, icy waters during a recent Polar Bear Dip in Niagara-on-the-Lake. Next Saturday, people will be found doing the same at the Bertie Boating Club. The Polar Bear Dip and Chili Cook Off, hosted by the Crystal Beach Improvement Area is expected to be a success in its first year by organizers.

Fort Erie Meteors forward Braeden Walker tries to better position himself in front of Stoney Creek's goalie on Saturday. The Meteors held a 3-2 lead into the third period before ending up dropping the contest 5-3. They will host the Welland Canadians tonight.

Meteors power play and penalty kill units fail to pull through in 5-3 loss

MATT DAY
Times Staff

The last time the Fort Erie Meteors and the Stoney Creek Warriors met, the result was an embarrassing 14-4 score with Fort Erie being on the losing end.

Last Saturday, the two teams met again for the first time since that route and it wasn't the type of game most people might have expected.

After the first two periods, Fort Erie was the team holding a 3-2 lead.

Brandon Thomas opened the scoring followed by goals from Mackenzie McAvooy and Mike Nedilsky.

That's where the offense stalled and the impending third period did Fort Erie in.

By failing to capitalize on any of their six power plays – including a five on three opportunity midway through the third – the Meteors were unable to hold off a late surge by the Warriors and lost 5-3.

Head coach Yvan Charrois said this game was a lot different than the last game between the teams.

"These guys beat us bad last time and tonight was a much different story. We lost 5-3, but the effort was there. I actually think we outplayed them for the most part of the game."

Charrois had a case there as Fort Erie's energy seemed higher on the ice than in previous games. Players were blocking shots and applying pressure in the offensive zones, creating many opportunities to score.

The downfall for Fort Erie was failing to get any production out of their power play unit.

All year the team has struggled on special teams. On the power play, the Meteors are a measly 13.8 per cent and are ranked 22nd out of the 25 teams in the Greater Ontario Junior Hockey League.

What makes matters even worse for Fort Erie is

"These next games are going to define where we sit in the standings, so hopefully we show up to play."

-Yvan Charrois

the fact they aren't any better on the penalty kill and sit last with a 72.8 per cent success rate.

"It's frustrating, but we've tried everyone and everything. Nothing seems to work," said Charrois.

Defenceman Chris Langdon said although losing in a close game is tough to digest, the team has to push it out of their minds and focus on their remaining games.

"We know we worked hard again tonight; things just didn't work out," he said.

"Every period we have to continue to tell ourselves it's a 0-0 game and keep giving it everything we have."

Fort Erie's next four games are crucial for the team to better position itself come the March playoffs.

With two back-to-back series scheduled against Welland and Niagara Falls, Charrois said the team needs to be playing 60 minutes of hockey every game.

"These next games are going to define where we sit in the standings, so hopefully we show up to play."

Fort Erie currently sits in seventh place with a record of 11-21-1 in the eight-team Golden Horseshoe Division.

They take on the 11-13-7 Welland Canadians tonight at 7:45 p.m. at the Leisureplex.

Deaths

ANZOVIRO, Rellie Kennedy - On December 27th, 2009 Rellie Kennedy Anzoviro died in her 10th year as the result of a tragic automobile accident. Rellie was the cherished daughter of Tim Anzoviro and Denise Kennedy and brother to Kim who was so very proud of his sister. Her loss is mourned also by her grandparents, John and Phyllis Kennedy and Patricia Anzoviro (Don Fulton). Rellie was predeceased by her grandfather, Patrick Anzoviro. Rellie was the beloved niece of Michael Anzoviro (Cathy Moffat), Patrick (Heather) Anzoviro and Theresa Anzoviro. Fawn (Tom) Atherton, Kelly (Randy) Christopher, Lynn (John) Clack, Marie (Ken) Coon. She is sadly missed by her many cousins, extended family, and her numerous friends. Rellie graduated from Lakeshore Catholic High School and was currently enrolled in Fine Arts at Algonquin College in Ottawa. Those who have known her since her childhood rejoiced in the precocious wit and creative artistry of Rellie, and watched with delight as these developed in later years into an unusual capacity for friendship, fashion, and a sensitivity to the needs of others. Her dazzling smile and joyous laughter are a treasured memory. The Funeral Mass for Rellie was celebrated at St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church, Wednesday, December 30, 2009 at 11:30 a.m. If so desired memorial contributions to an educational fund set up for her brother Ken would be appreciated. Further information is available through BENNER FUNERAL SERVICES, 905-871-0444 who were entrusted with the arrangements.

In loving memory of my dear grandson. As time goes by without you and days turn into years, they hold a million memories and a thousand silent tears. It's lonely here without you, we miss you more each day, for life is not the same for us since you were called away.

To us you were so special, what more is there to say, except we wish with all hearts, that you were here with us today.

Lovingly remembered by:

His grandmother Shirley, uncles Kim & Nat (Pam), cousins Maddox & Ethan.

*A million times I've needed you
A million times I've cried,
If love could have saved you
You never would have died.
Things we feel most deeply
Are the hardest things to say,
My dearest one, I loved you,
In a very special way.*

*If I could have one lifetime wish
One dream that could come true,
I'd pray to God with all my heart
For yesterday and you.*
